Creative Director and producer Rick Dumont has worked with survivors and victims of domestic and sexual violence for more than 24 years, first as a police dispatcher, then as an award winning investigative journalist and as an artist.

Now, as a successful documentary and commercial film maker and producer, Rick and his company continue to work towards raising awareness of pertinent social issues by focusing on producing video content for non-profits, as well as producing events that benefit organizations who work with survivors and provide counseling, education, legal assistance, and advocacy.

For this project Rick has put together a team of some of the finest young performers in New England, the goal is not only help raise awareness of the prevalence of abusive behavior in dating relationships among high school and college aged people, but also to help empower and enlighten them to recognize some signs of emotional abuse, control and manipulation.

In order to make this particular project as accurate and helpful as possible, Rick enlisted the assistance of Portsmouth based clinical psychologist, Dr. Christianna Skoczek to help craft the script. Along with the doctor, the Strafford County Attorneys Office Victims Assistance Division, Child Advocacy Center and NH Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence contributed and edited the script to ensure that the script was sending the best possible message is expressed.

The project itself is an educational video, approximately 10-15 minutes long. It consists of 4 vignette about emotionally abusive, controlling or manipulative behaviors in dating relationships. There are conversation points included voiced by the actors and spokespeople to help to enlighten someone who might be in a similar situation to find their inner strength to get out.

Our goal is to raise $20,000, which will go towards providing a stipend to each of the performers and crew members who gave of their time, talent and energy to this project. Funds will also go towards the marketing and licensing of the project so that we can offer it free to schools, organizations and support groups across New Hampshire and throughout New England for use in their education programs.

Currently, the Great Bay Community College, who also generously provided their campus for a couple of the scenes, the Child Advocacy Center of Strafford County and Haven have expressed an interest in the project for their programs. The NH Coalition is going to be assisting us in distributing the video to other non-profits and schools.

We look forward to partnering with you to bring the message to communities and letting people know that you support efforts to bring an end to the various atrocities that befall all too many young people in our state and elsewhere.

Thank you for your consideration,
